

Luminaire 8

Sophie Langhorst

One luminaire.

Eight luminous elements. Four colours. Each in two intensities. Light becomes atmosphere. Hanging from the ceiling via the light grey textile wire into the white glazed maple-wood socket. Through the hand blown coloured glass into the room. Light tells the glasses story. Glass tells the story of its individual fabrication. Wood and wire create a graphic framework. Become a picture.

